
Why Do Major Companies Send Their Executives to CEO SPACE?

Saturday, 29 September 2007

Larger employers typically use the multi year, multi class discount plan for PAT [CEO SPACE's Performance Acceleration Training program]. The pull down menu entitled CORPORATE provides print and video information on the corporate PAT program for larger employers. CEO SPACE is becoming a favorite way to reward key employees, to recognize and inspire on-going performance gains, and to design culture change related to cooperative vs. competitive systems in the work place. CEO SPACE offers key personnel unique family reward plans not found in other programs. CEO SPACE also offers flexible scheduling over five programs each year. CEO SPACE forces cross mentorship where employees master each training module by teaching the module as a mentor to others. Practice skills training assure long term performance gains also lacking in many other theory only trainings. On going support keeps program graduates on track. CEO SPACE is a next generation corporate training program. Our PAT program under the corporate menu section is the latest technology in employee recognition and reward performance training. Employee on time arrival, reduced off day, performance improvement, for every level work mission is enhanced along with employee to employer loyalty. Employees who graduate from CEO SPACE PAT Training will labor to win the right to return in the coming year. CEO SPACE offers tailored lesson plans for break away classes to support individual employer mission work within the week residency CEO SPACE training with PAT enrollments of fifty or more.