

Why Do Inventors Attend CEO Space Classes?

Saturday, 29 September 2007

Like artists, inventors also require specialized business support. Inventors know from their peers that CEO Space is a safe port in the frenzy market place for their money. CEO SPACE on line videos offer many year to year confirmations related to investor satisfaction with the process. Very large investors join mid size and smaller investors in a single event. Investors form their own alliance. Larger investors create their own mutual fund of venture diversification across breaking technologies everywhere in the world. The latest nano, bio, tech, agro, and environmental offerings appear at CEO SPACE. New entertainment and communicate products appear at CEO SPACE. Investors see more projects. Investors form more in depth relationship with CEOs before they invest.

CEO SPACE costs less and takes less time. Its that simple. You can see more deals and better deals and diversify more in less time for less cost. Investors feel CEO SPACE management are better trained.

CEO Space helps inventors meet prototype manufactures, model makers, production run manufacturers, marketing experts, branding specialists, licensing experts, and management. CEO SPACE helps inventors to license their projects or to control the production from napkin to worldwide distribution. Inventors have access to television, catalog and related marketing contacts through CEO SPACE and many other markets for their products and services. Inventors have access to discounted property protection services that can improve protection for their original concepts. Manufacturers from all over the world attend CEO SPACE in various materials and fields. CEO SPACE helps mature firms as well as start ups. Some projects are global others are local. New energy technologies, new building technologies, and new communication technologies are flowing from CEO SPACE.

Most importantly, CEO Space is a nurturing place for CEOs of rapid growth firms to define new structures and markets for capital. Investment bankers and Wal Street Firms attend and teach on faculty. Larger law firms attend.

CEO SPACE is a proud sponsor of INPEX (the Comdex of inventor shows) and CEO SPACE provides many of our faculty to INPEX each year. CEO SPACE founder BJ Dohrmann host of American Dreamer Radio is a key note speaker at INPEX and other inventor conferences each year.

The risk as marketing guru and faculty member Jay Abraham suggests... is the cost of delay for inventors. Loosing opportunity is the financial cost of going through weeks or months when you could have enjoyed the wealth potentials of your project more fully realized. CEO SPACE helps you avoid pitfalls and mistakes. At your pace. Jim Woodham's CEO of a San Diego Design Engineering firm - notes that "helping CEO SPACE Entrepreneurs is one of the rewards of having the credentials and capacity to really make a difference".....The past President of the American Manufacturer's Association, Ralph Thompson is on faculty at CEO SPACE and notes " you just can't beat CEO SPACE to save time and money in getting inventions to market ...that's why I'm personally bringing all my global contacts to CEO SPACE CEO's..."

CEO SPACE is tailored to each dream. Inventors work in small industry specific focus groups, with maximum individual attention. CEO SPACE has the resource kit, all at one place at one time, with on going support that never ends. The CEO SPACE inventor packages works to take inventors over the top.
